

Later this month, the Archbishop of York, Stephen Cottrell, is making a missionary visit to the Diocese of Southwell and Nottingham. Archbishop Stephen will be with there on 22nd-24th November, and will be visiting various churches, schools and organisations during his visit. He aims to share in and encourage the mission of the Church in the diocese, as it seeks to grow disciples of Christ with compassion, confidence and courage.

There are three opportunities for you to meet and hear from the Archbishop:
